

Denver Botanic Gardens

Denver Botanic Gardens' mission is to connect people with plants, especially plants from the Rocky Mountain region and similar regions around the world, providing delight and enlightenment for everyone.

To this mission, the Gardens added four core values as an integral element of a new branding platform. These values, adopted in 2007 - transformation, relevance, diversity and sustainability - spell out the Gardens' intentions in the years ahead. Along with the Gardens' new brand platform, strategy, icon, and the Flourish Capital Campaign, the core values are cohesive and serve as a map to chart our course.
